Award-winning author Dawn Eden Goldstein speaks on her latest book, which brings the profound beauty and transformative power of the Sacred Heart devotion to life through an exploration of its history, the lives of the saints, and personal reflections.

DAWN EDEN GOLDSTEIN is the author of The Sacred Heart: A Love for All Times, Father Ed: The Story of Bill W.'s Spiritual Sponsor, and several other books. Born in New York City, Dr. Goldstein began her career as a rock-and-roll historian before moving on to editorial positions at the New York Post and the Daily News. In 2016, she became the first woman to earn a doctorate in sacred theology from the University of St. Mary of the Lake. With her graduation from the Catholic University of America School of Canon Law in May 2023, she became one of the few laywomen to hold both a doctorate in theology licensed by the Holy See and a licentiate in canon law. She lives in Washington, DC, and has taught at universities and seminaries in the United States, England, and India.
